

Concierge Communications Adds Jive to Their Voice and Data Portfolio

Tempe, AZ , February 25, 2010 – Concierge Communications, a Tempe based company that represents providers of communication and technology, today announced the addition of Jive Communications, a telephone systems and services provider, to their portfolio of business-class solutions.

“Many SMB clients are looking for a converged voice and data solution that makes economic sense. Utilization of existing network assets is key to trimming costs,” said Clark Atwood, Vice President of Concierge Communications. “Start-ups, small businesses and businesses with multiple small locations are the clients that are asking to review these types of options. Jive fills this need by offering a bring-your-own bandwidth solution coupled with years of architecting delivery of voice over a public transport infrastructure. We see their model of month-to-month contracts as a selling point in a shaky business climate.”

Concierge Communications believes many of their SMB clients will appreciate the extensive range of options Jive has to offer, from benefits like integrated phone systems and enterprise-level functionality, and system features such as multiple auto-attendants, flexible routing, conferencing, dial by extension or by name and pricing options not typically seen in a hosted model.

“In an increasingly complex communications environment, customers are turning to technology experts and consultants to ensure that they get the best value for their IT budget,” stated Brent Thomson, CEO of Jive Communications, Inc. “Concierge has a proven track record and extensive experience with IP telephony. These qualifications will ensure a strong partnership as we continue to provide enterprise-grade hosted phone systems at a price point that meets the needs of the SMB market.”
