

Limitless Technology Joins Cloud Services Round Table

Tempe, AZ, July 20, 2010 – The Cloud Services Round Table today announced its newest member, Limitless Technology, a Florida-based master brokerage for technology products and services in communications.

The Cloud Services Round Table was created by two leading master agencies, Concierge Communications and Terrapin Solutions, in May 2010. The group is meeting monthly online and will hold an in-person meeting at the Channel Partners Expo this year in Washington DC. The intention is to organize master agencies focused on managed services, cloud computing and hosted services.

“Limitless Technology brings a seasoned management team, complimentary provider portfolio and geographic views that compliment the round table discussions.” said Clark Atwood, Chairman of the Cloud Services Round Table and Vice President of Concierge Communications. “We are excited to have them contributing to this dynamic group.”

“The need for a round table grows as the specific new needs of the clients within the IP and cloud world is growing,” said Todd Larsen, CEO of Limitless technology. “These strategic alliances and information exchange sessions allow the members of the group to explore, enhance and integrate new approaches to the US telecommunications markets and quite possibly the world.”

Master agencies can apply to the round table by going to www.CloudRoundTable.com. Participants can expect to participate in valuable discussions regarding cloud technologies and providers, discuss what is working in cloud services, review cloud-base service providers, and more. By participating the Cloud Services Round Table, a master agent will be able to have their pulse on the market changes that a rapidly changing the opportunity landscape for those seeking residual income opportunities.
